LINE-X gets rare national business award

BELMONT — LINE-X Protective Coatings, the nation's leading developer and provider of high-performance protective coatings, recognized LINE-X of Belmont by presenting two prominent industry awards, a coveted spot in Entrepreneur Magazine's annual "Top 500 Franchises" List and the honor of being named the No. 1 Miscellaneous Auto Products and Services company.

Franchisees Ken Lind and Bonnie Kern own the local LINE-X of Belmont store, located at 140 Laconia Rd. Specializing in spray-on protective coatings, LINE-X of Belmont helps business and residential customers protect their investments by offering rust, corrosion, abrasion, and weather-resistant applications, from their wellknown bedliner vehicle protection to endless industrial and commercial applications and even government projects in security and national defense coatings.

"As a franchisee network, our achievements are recognized and shared among all of our team members," said LINE-X Chief Executive Officer Kevin Heronimus. "We are proud to honor LINE-X of Belmont with these awards as they share our dedication in offering only the best to our customers with award-winning products. It is with the support and commitment of our franchisees that LINE-X Protective Coatings has become an award-winning brand."

Having been recognized by Entrepreneur Magazine for 11 consecutive years, the awards continue to showcase the commitment LINE-X offers through dedicated customer service and top-quality products at competitive market values. This year's placement in the magazine's "Top 500 Franchises" places LINE-X at No. 195 overall, with a notable No. 1 honor for the Miscellaneous Auto Products and Services industry.

Although widely known for its spray-on truck bedliners, LINE-X Protective Coatings has utilized its attributes to penetrate other markets, including military, industrial, and commercial applications. LINEX's unique solutions for a wide range of applications provide options that are flexible in terms of durability, appearance and protection.
