BELMONT — Residents had a chance to help prioritize town building needs during an open house on Wednesday night, but for those who did not attend, the Belmont Facility Strategy Committee is offering further opportunities to weigh in.

Committee member Donna Hepp said comment forms are available at the Belmont Town Hall, and the committee will be posting an electronic version of the survey online.

The deadline for completion of the surveys is Friday, Oct. 27.

"We've just scanned through the comments thus far, and I'd say there are a wide range of suggestions and feedback," Hepp said. "Thus far, the comments are focusing on issues facing the Police Department and Town Hall and lots of options regarding future use of the Belmont Mill."

She said the responses also indicate an interest in public tours of the town buildings.

The survey identifies issues with nine of the town-owned buildings and provides space for people rate the priority and offer their own comments, including an open-ended "Other Ideas/Suggestions" at the end of the sheet.
