SUPERVISORY CONTROLS: The supervisor provides administrative direction with assignments in terms of broadly defined missions or functions. The employee has responsibility for planning, designing and carrying out programs, projects, studies or other work independently. Results of the work are considered as technically authoritative and are normally accepted without significant change. If the work should be reviewed, the review concerns such matters as fulfillment of program objectives, effect of advice and influence of the overall program, or the contribution to the advancement of technology. Recommendations for new projects and alterations of objectives are usually evaluated for such considerations as availability of funds and other resources, broad program goals or organizational priorities.

GUIDELINES: Guidelines are available, but are not completely applicable to the work or have gaps in specificity. The employee uses judgment in interpreting and adapting guidelines such as agency policies, regulations, precedents and work directions for application to specific cases or problems. The employee analyzes results and recommends changes.

COMPLEXITY: The work typically includes varied duties requiring many different and unrelated processes and methods such as those relating to well-established aspects of an administrative or professional field. Decisions regarding what needs to be done include the assessment of unusual circumstances, variations in approach and incomplete or conflicting data. The work requires making many decisions concerning such things as the interpreting of considerable data, planning of the work, or refining the methods and techniques to be used.

SCOPE AND EFFECT: The work involves establishing criteria; formulating projects; assessing program effectiveness; or investigating or analyzing a variety of unusual conditions, problems or questions. The work product or service affects a wide range of agency activities, major activities of industrial concerns or the operation of other agencies.

PERSONAL CONTACTS: The personal contacts are with individuals or groups from outside the employing agency in a moderately unstructured setting (e.g., the contacts are not established on a routine basis; the purpose and extent of each contact is different and the role and authority of each party is identified and developed during the course of the contact).

PURPOSE OF CONTACTS: The purpose is to plan, coordinate or advise on work efforts or to resolve operating problems by influencing or motivating individuals or groups who are working toward mutual goals and who have basically cooperative attitudes.

PHYSICAL DEMANDS: The work requires some physical exertion such as long periods of standing; walking over rough, uneven, or rocky surfaces; recurring bending, crouching, stooping, stretching, reaching or similar activities; recurring lifting of moderately heavy items such as equipment and record boxes. The work may require specific, but common, physical characteristics and abilities such as above-average agility and dexterity.

WORK ENVIRONMENT: The work environment involves everyday risks or discomforts that require normal safety precautions typical of such places as offices, meeting and training rooms, construction sites, developed and undeveloped properties, or commercial vehicles (e.g., use of safe work practices with office equipment, avoidance of trips and falls, avoidance of construction equipment and processes, observance of fire regulations and traffic signals, etc.). The office work area is adequately lighted, but may, at times, be inadequately climate controlled and ventilated. Office area and workspace sizes and configurations are congested and restricted, may not be conducive to efficient employee operations, and require employee to utilize effective workplace safety and organizational methods.

SUPERVISORY AND MANAGEMENT RESPONSIBILITY: Department heads at this level have final responsibility and authority for the accomplishment of objectives, utilization of resources and personnel administration decisions within a major jurisdictional subdivision. They are accountable for the effective and efficient management of work to achieve goals and objectives. They usually receive guidance in the form of approval/denial on matters of policy, service levels and goals or objectives from higher authorities.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS:

- Bachelor's degree in Planning or related field, plus five years' experience of progressively responsible experience with community planning, at least two of which shall have been with a city or town. Preference may be given to more experienced candidates with several years' practical professional planning experience.
- Experience in applying innovative zoning techniques.
- Familiarity with New Hampshire land use law.
- AICP Planner Certification desirable but not required .
- Possession of or ability to readily obtain a valid driver's license issued by the State of New Hampshire for the type of vehicle or equipment operated.
- Course work related to environmental issues.
- Any equivalent combination of education and experience that demonstrates possession of the required knowledge, skills and abilities.
